++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny spells Saturday. Mainly dry. Slight frost overnight.

Today:
Cloud will increase across the Pennines and the Cheviots during the day, along with a little drizzle and low cloud. Remaining bright or even sunny in eastern parts though. Some light winds, feeling pleasantly warm in any spells of sunshine. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
The cloud will become extensive overnight, with hill fog and patchy drizzle, keeping temperatures above freezing. Remaining largely dry in eastern parts despite the cloud cover. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Sunday:
Mostly cloudy at first, the cloud breaking to fair weather cloud and sunny spells. Remaining largely dry. Fog spreading along coastal areas during the evening, some frosts possible inland. Maximum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
Mostly cloudy Monday and Tuesday, with fog lifting into low cloud. Best chance of any sunshine in western parts, though cold by night. Showers on Wednesday, perhaps heavy early morning.
